Comments from the Chair

by Brick Johnstone, Ph.D., Chair

The State Committee of Psychologists has had several changes in board membership since our most recent newsletter. The committee is comprised of psychologists with a variety of skills and expertise. SCOP's Public Member position remains open at this time. We greatly appreciate the contributions of Dr. Jerry Driver, Dr. Mariann Atwell, and Mr. Lyle Rosberg who recently completed their terms on the committee. Recent appointments to the committee include:

Mark Skrade, Psy.D. - Dr. Skrade is from Springfield, is the President of Forest Institute of Professional Psychology, a clinical psychologist, and a former President of the Missouri Psychological Association.

Patrick Maloney, Ph.D. - Dr. Maloney is from St. Louis, is a clinical psychologist, and works as an Executive Clinical Science Liaison (Neuroscience) for Takeda Pharmaceuticals North America, Inc. In his role, he collaborates with academic and research centers conducting basic and clinical research. He also actively works with professional organizations that focus on disease states related to behavioral health.

Deborah Onken, Ph.D. - Dr. Onken is from St. Louis and a clinical psychologist in private practice. Psychosynthesis trainer, lecturer, and analyst, specializes in marriage and family, EMDR, taught for 25+ years at Washington University and is the Director of the Family Synthesis Institute.

Sharon Lightfoot, Ph.D. - Dr. Lightfoot is from St. Louis, is a clinical psychologist in private practice, and specializes in working with couples and gays and lesbians, frequently consults with attorneys to assist in understanding psychological issues, and periodically offers a support group to folks who are interested in increasing health and social support.

Nancy O'Reilly, Psy.D. - Dr. O'Reilly is from Springfield, is the CEO of O'Reilly Health and Wellness Consulting Services. She is the founder of the Women Speak Project, which enriches and empowers women. She is the co-author of book titled "Timeless Women Speak Feeling Youthful at any Age."

Mark Kinder, Ph.D. - Dr. Kinder is in his third year of service. He works as a health psychologist for St. Francis Medical Center in Cape Girardeau providing outpatient and inpatient health psychology services to medical center population. Specific areas of interest include traumatic stress, veterans' issues, pain, and sleep.

Brick Johnstone, Ph.D. - I have started my tenth year on SCOP and work at the MU Department of Health Psychology in Missouri.

SCOP has remained proactive in promoting ethical practice by psychologists by continued support of continuing education programs across the state (and at

Message from the Division Director

Jane A. Rackers

In every profession there are leaders who command the respect of their peers for their professional expertise, ethics and fairness. The way they conduct themselves in their job becomes the standard for others to follow. They are the kind of people we need to serve on our professional licensing boards.

The State Committee of Psychologists is made up of eight members. Seven licensed psychologists and one public member. To ensure adequate representation of the diverse fields of psychology, the Committee shall consist of at least two psychologists who are engaged full time in the doctoral teaching and training of psychologists, and at least two psychologists who are engaged full time in the professional practice of psychology. The psychologist members must have been licensed in Missouri for at least three years. All are appointed by the Governor and must be a Missouri resident for at least one year.

Currently there is one member serving on an expired term, and the public member position is vacant.

Governor Nixon wants all of the Boards to “look like Missouri.” He wants diversity of practice specialty, geography, gender, race and ethnicity.

If you know someone who would be an excellent member, please encourage them to apply.

For more information about the qualification for membership on the board or how to apply, go to the Governor’s website at www.governor.mo.gov and click on “Boards and Commissions,” or call me at (573) 751-1081.

ASPPB Practice Analysis Study—

Large-scale validation survey launched

ASPPB has been in the business of credentialing psychologists since 1961. As part of its mission to provide excellence in regulation, and in adherence with best practices in credentialing, a critical component of ASPPB’s development of valid and reliable licensure examinations and certification programs is the conduct of periodic analyses of the practice of psychology. The last such study was completed in 2003, and ASPPB is currently conducting its third major practice analysis in partnership with Professional Examination Service, the organization that administers the EPPP. Results of this study will be used to update the EPPP, to develop complementary assessments, and to guide the education and training of future psychologists.

You may have recently received, or may receive in the next few days, an invitation to participate in the final phase of the study – a large-scale online survey of 5,000 psychologists across the US and Canada, who will be evaluating the knowledge and competencies used by psychologists in practice today.

Your jurisdiction is a member jurisdiction of ASPPB, and it is critical that the study and ultimately the credentialing process include perspectives of psychologists from your jurisdiction. We urge you to participate if you are included in the sample of psychologists to whom the invitation has been sent. Your responses will help ensure that ASPPB achieves the most comprehensive and contemporary description of psychology practice possible. If you have any questions about the study, contact ASPPB at 334-832-4580.

We appreciate your contribution to this endeavor.

no cost to licensed psychologists). During the past year we licensed 98 psychologists, issued 34 provisional licenses, and considered 38 ethical complaints. Recent changes to the rules include 20 CSR 2235-1.015 (12), which limits the administration and interpretation of specific psychological tests to only licensed psychologists. We have received numerous questions regarding individuals who may be appropriate to administer such tests. This new rule suggests that any individual, including individuals from other licensed professions (e.g., LPCs, LCSWs) may administer tests if they are adequately trained to do so. However, they cannot interpret them.

SCOP continues to monitor trends in professional licensing across the nation and Canada. Efforts are underway to make all psychology licenses transferable across Canadian provinces, which is forcing them to identify uniform licensing requirements. Similar trends are being discussed by licensing boards in the US, with efforts to survey all state requirements to determine appropriate guidelines (e.g., standard number of supervised practicum hours, etc.). Other states have eliminated the requirement for the one year residency requirement. Several states continue to attempt to pass prescription privilege legislation which will impact state licensing laws, although Louisiana Medical Psychologists (MP) recently passed legislation that moved jurisdiction of this group (i.e., MPs) to the state board of healing arts. As a reminder, SCOP does not promote any legislative agenda but must respond to any changes in law.

In closing, the SCOP members and staff reiterate our goal to serve the citizens of Missouri by ensuring the competent and ethical practice of all psychologists. We also desire to make it as easy as possible for psychologists to become licensed in Missouri, and are very appreciative of the efforts of SCOP's Executive Director, Pam Groose, and her staff, Roxy Brockman and Vicky Steen.

Show Me Response

Disasters call for heroes. Answer the Call.

The Missouri Department of Health and Senior Services is pleased to announce Show-Me Response, a Registry of Volunteer Healthcare Professionals and help in times of public crisis.

The Missouri Department of Health and Senior Services, Center for Emergency Response and Terrorism (CERT) announces the December 1, 2008 activation of Show-Me Response, an online registration program for healthcare professionals who are interested in volunteering in the event of a natural disaster or other large-scale public health crisis in Missouri. During a public emergency, healthcare volunteers are essential to help coordinate and deliver services for medical assessment, medication dispensing, immunization, counseling, special needs sheltering, and more.

When volunteers register for Show-Me Response, they make themselves available for contact in the event of a disaster should their area of expertise be needed. Once contacted, each volunteer will be able to choose the type and level of participation. The system is safe and secure, and any information a volunteer provides will be protected for privacy.

Show-Me Response will collect and check licensing and credential information so it can be readily available for the Missouri Department of Health and Senior Services staff to assist in the notification and activation of qualified medical volunteers.

Healthcare professionals can register as volunteers on the Show-Me Response web site at www.ShowMeResponse.org

"Disasters begin and end locally, and trained and prepared volunteers play a key role in responding to a crisis," said Mike Sampson, director of the Center for Emergency Response and Terrorism. "Volunteers on the local level can help provide an immediate and effective response. Any disaster typically involves health concerns, increasing the need for trained volunteers."

New Member Appointments

Mark E. Skrade,
Psy.D.

Dr. Mark Skrade earned a Psychological Doctorate in Clinical Psychology from Forest Institute of Professional Psychology in December 1991.

Mark completed his pre-doctoral internship at the Federal Medical Center, Rochester, Minnesota in 1988. He was employed by the Federal Bureau of Prisons (BOP) for eight years and worked at the United States Penitentiary, Leavenworth, Kansas. He was Director (Associate Warden) of Inmate Administration at the United States Disciplinary Barracks, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas before returning to Springfield.

Mark joined The School of Professional Psychology at Forest Institute in November 1999 as Interim Dean. In June 2000 he was appointed Dean and Vice President and in October 2000 he was appointed by the Institute's Board of Directors as the second President of Forest Institute. Mark is a member of the American Psychological Association and several of its divisions. He is current Treasurer for Division 55 of the APA. He is a member and Immediate Past-president of the Missouri Psychological Association. He is a member of the Collaborative Family Health Care Association (CFHA).

He serves as Chair, Heart of America Psychology Training Consortium (HAPTC) Board of Director's, Member and Past-Chair of the (Springfield) Mayor's Commission for Children, has been a member of the Southwest Missouri Area Health Education Center's (AHEC) Advisory Board since 2001. In 2006 Mark was appointed to the newly formed Missouri Area Health Education Centers (MO-AHEC) Council and in November 2008 he was appointed to the State Committee of Psychology (SCOP).

Mark is a native of Wisconsin and later lived in Illinois. He served four years in the United States Navy and is a Viet Nam veteran. He has been married 28 years to Jami Skrade, M.D., MBA, who is a pathologist with Pathology Services of Springfield and Tri-lakes Pathology Services; and practices at Cox Medical Centers. Drs. Skrade have two daughters 12 and 14 years old and recently became permanent guardians for their 10 year old niece and 11 year old nephew.

Nancy D. O'Reilly,
Psy.D.

As a member of the American Psychological Association, Nancy O'Reilly, Psy.D. has counseled women for over 25 years on everything from mental health and stress to aging, relationships and careers.

She is founder of WomenSpeak.com, which is based on her expertise, experiences, and a decade of research about women's issues and concerns. Her groundbreaking research exploring women's perceptions of aging has been published in the "American Journal of Health Behavior." She is the co-author of, "Timeless Women Speak: Feeling Youthful at Any Age," and hosts a radio program on WebTalkRadio.net, called "Timeless Women Speak."

Dr. Nancy writes numerous articles in a variety of publications, appears on radio and TV, and speaks at conferences nationally. She has presented her research at the "American Psychological Association Conference."

The newly redesigned website reaches thousands of women with free advice and a wealth of A-to-Z resources design-nated as the WomenSpeak Project. This provides up-to-date information and self-help for the areas of Feeling Youthful, Health, Relationships and Finance which were the major categories coming from the research.

Dr. Nancy hosts an internet radio show on Web Talk Radio. Each week she interviews expert women who share inspiring stories and practical advice to everyday problems. This show tackles different issues and helps women laugh at their fears with candid answers about sexuality, careers, health, passion and purpose.

Patrick Maloney, Ph.D.

Patrick earned his Bachelor's degree from the University of Missouri-St. Louis and his Master's and Doctoral degrees from the University of Akron in Ohio. His primary areas of study were clinical and life-span developmental psychology with an emphasis in research methodology and assessment. Patrick first worked in academic settings teaching, publishing research, and providing supervision. After leaving academia, he worked delivering direct clinical services in both inpatient and outpatient settings as a Licensed Psychologist and providing consulting services focusing on healthcare outcomes. He then served in health care management, serving as Director of Operations for a regional Behavioral Health MCO and as Regional Director of Behavioral Medicine for a large hospital system.

Patrick now works in the Medical and Scientific Affairs group for Takeda Pharmaceuticals North America with a primary focus on research in central ner-

Changes in Missouri law that affect your next renewal

Income tax

This law has been on the books for several years now, but a reminder is always a benefit. The State Committee of Psychologists is required to give your Social Security number to the Department of Revenue before granting a new license or a renewal. If you are an existing licensee, your SSN will be provided to the DOR approximately 30 days before your renewal. The DOR will determine if you owe any back income taxes or if you've failed to file an income tax return in the past three years. If so, you will be notified. You will have 90 days from that notification to take care of the tax liability or your license will be suspended until you are in compliance.

If you are applying for a new license, your SSN will be given to the DOR within 30 days of your application. If you are not in compliance, your application will not be considered until you are in compliance.

The current requirements have been in effect since 2004, thanks to House Bill 978. You may recall that House Bill 600, passed in 2003, required revocation for non-compliance. The law was changed in 2004 to require suspension. The law is section 324.010 RSMo.

vous system (CNS) compounds. Patrick has been active in several professional organizations (MOPA, St. Louis Psychological Association) and has worked as an advocate for consumers of mental health services. He currently resides in St. Louis.

Deborah S. Onken, Ph.D.

Deborah has been a licensed Missouri psychologist since 1980. M.A. in psychology from Washington University, M.A.Ed in counseling from Washington University, PhD in Marriage and Family Studies from St. Louis University. Clinical Member of AAMFT.

Dr. Onken has been on staff of Care and Counseling for more than 30 years. Care and Counseling is a pastoral counseling agency, and she has served as a therapist, clergy evaluator, and supervisor. For more than 25 years, she taught a course in listening and therapy skills at Washington University. She has also served as both Treasurer and President of the Network of Women Psychologists; Secretary, Treasurer, President, and on various committees for St. Louis Psychological Association; and has been on the legislature committee, helped start the disaster response committee with Dr. Joann Hindman of Kansas City, and was Treasurer of Missouri Psychological Association.

Dr. Onken is a trainer, supervisor, and analyst for Psychosynthesis, a positive psychology. She has served as Treasurer and President of the Association for the Advancement of Psychosynthesis. Currently, Dr. Judith Broadus of Kentucky, Dr. Janet Messer of Arizona, and Dr. Onken (Chair) comprise the Continuing Education committee for AAP. The American Psychological Association and the National Board of Certified Counselors have granted AAP status to award

CE credits for their educational meetings.

Dr. Onken has presented workshops in Istanbul, Athens, Bologna, Porto, Toronto, and at AAP conferences in Vermont, Kentucky, Minnesota, California, and Missouri. She will be presenting for AAP in June of 2010. Most of the workshops and lectures are based on Psycho-synthesis exercises and theory, and she has applied these exercises to families in a book, The Family Self Help Book: Exercises in Family Synthesis (Amazon.com). The book was designed for families to use to explore their inter-generational potentials, make choices, and be more resilient with future changes.

Sharon Lightfoot, Ph.D.

Sharon Lightfoot, a life-long resident of St. Louis, Missouri, is a psychologist in private practice in the city.

Dr. Lightfoot obtained her PhD in Clinical Psychology in 1987 from St. Louis University. She completed her internship at the Los Angeles Veteran's Administration Outpatient Clinic under the direction of Dr. Herman Feifel, a pioneer in the psychological study of death, dying and bereavement.

Dr. Lightfoot has been in private practice for over 20 years. In addition to direct clinical work, she has offered consulting services in psychological assessments and expert witness services, supervised graduate students and taught college classes.

Dr. Lightfoot, with her colleague Dr. Gloria Gordon, has also developed an innovative program for individuals who are interested in increased social support for healthful living, Walking and Talking in the Park.

Pain and symptom management

by Tuck VanDyne, MPA, Chief,
Office of Women's Health, Division of Community and Public Health,
Dept. of Health & Senior Services

Pain is the most common reason Americans seek medical attention.

In 2005, three of every ten Missourians reported that pain made it hard to care for themselves, to work or to participate in recreational activities during the preceding month.

In 2004, town hall meetings were held throughout the state to obtain input from persons experiencing severe or chronic pain and from the health care providers who care for them. The majority of individuals identified the lack of health care provider knowledge regarding pain assessment as a primary barrier to proper pain care. Pain is one of the most universally experienced phenomena yet health care providers have many misconceptions about pain. These include a lack of understanding that uncontrolled acute pain increases the risk for developing persistent debilitating pain; a fear of prescribing opioid pain medications despite available guidelines and policies; and a lack of appreciation of the need for interdisciplinary approaches to care.

Many individuals at the town hall meetings said consumers also lack knowledge regarding optimal pain therapy, and don't understand the consequences of untreated pain. Patients and families need to be informed and empowered to take a more active role in their care.

RENEWALS: Renewals are mailed to all current licensees around October of each odd numbered year. Renewals are mailed to the most current address on file with the State Committee of Psychologists. The renewal license will be valid for 2 years, February 1 to January 31.

MASTER'S DEGREE TO DOCTORAL DEGREE PSYCHOLOGISTS: Section 337.090 of the Psychology Practice Act states in part . . . “Any person licensed on the basis of a master’s degree who has then earned a doctoral degree may use the title “doctor” or hold himself out in his practice as a psychologist as having a doctoral degree so long as it is from an accredited institution of higher education and so long as the degree is relevant to the practice of psychology.”

Licensees who have obtained a doctoral degree after being licensed based upon the master’s degree can submit evidence of the doctoral degree to the State Committee of Psychologists and it will be added to the permanent record. Licensees who wish to have their license record upgraded to reflect that they are licensed at the doctoral level must submit evidence of the degree and request in writing a Committee review and upgrade.
